

builders of the adytum

March 8, 2020

B.O.T.A. Policy Announcement Concerning the Covid 19 Virus Outbreak

Dear Aspirants,

In response to the global outbreak of the coronavirus, Covid 19, the Builders of the Adytum has decided that a temporary policy should go into effect for all group work. The Order is concerned for the welfare of all those who attend our meetings. While this outbreak is active, and information about the nature of the disease and its means of transmission are constantly changing, certain precautions should be taken worldwide pertaining to B.O.T.A. gatherings of every kind.

The following policy will, therefore, be operative until this emergency has passed:

1. At all B.O.T.A. meetings, attendees are urged to refrain from physical contact with one another. It is not necessary for us to show our love by hugging, kissing, or hand-shaking. It is more important that we show our love by restraining such behavior for the protection of ourselves and others. To that end, please stay well informed as to the best precautions to take when in gatherings.
2. If you are sick, experiencing cold or flu symptoms, or have had recent contact with someone suffering such symptoms, please do not attend a B.O.T.A. meeting. If you have specific responsibilities, please inform the meeting coordinator(s) that you cannot attend, giving as much advance notice as possible.

Living in the world of Malkuth in Assiah, we operate always according to the laws of Nature while maintaining complete confidence in the ability of Spirit to guide our actions and our lives. Therefore, we know this crisis will pass, and that our activities will return to normal.

As persons of like mind and heart, we are united on the inner side of life, whether we are physically together or apart. So please continue to hold positive images of healing for the world, and resist the tendency to succumb to the fears that accompany uncertain times by remaining well informed and using good judgement.

Fraternally in L.V.X.

The Builders of the Adytum